PREFACE.

WHEN I volunteered to pass through the press for the Cambridge Antiquarian Society a short Calendar of the Feet of Fines for their County, on the same lines as that I had printed for Norfolk, I thought I had a very easy task.

The idea was suggested to me by seeing on the shelves of the Record Office a MS. which purported to be a complete official calendar of the Fines for Cambridge, from Richard I. to Richard III.

Not unnaturally I thought that a transcript of this could be made at a comparatively small expense, and that when it was put into type it could be read by me with the original documents and seen through the press at little trouble to myself or expense to the Society.

But when the transcript was made and the first sheet of proof compared with the original fines, I became painfully aware that this was one of those Calendars which were compiled in the bad old days of the Record Commission—no doubt at enormous expense—by some relation of some official, who must have been as nearly ignorant of the writing of the period and of the Latin language and its abbreviations as could well be. It would have been better—as it turned out—to have taken the bull by the horns, to have destroyed the misleading Calendar and done the work de novo, for the work of correction and addition has been very great, and I fear has been as expensive to the Society, as it has been tedious and wearisome to me. To the actual time of going to press further errors in the original Calendar have been detected from time to time and no doubt others have been overlooked.

For the mistakes which local antiquaries will find in my readings of surnames and, to a greater extent, of place names I must apologise in advance. I should have liked help, but it was not forthcoming at first, and my only excuse is that I have done my best, and that any indexed Calendar, crede experto, is better than none. This will serve as a stop-gap at all events in place of a more detailed Calendar giving the field names, consideration money, callings to warranty and other information plentifully scattered about through the two thousand and odd documents mentioned hereafter.

One very interesting feature disclosed by this Calendar is connected with the 128 early unusual Christian or fore-names found in it, viz.:

28 only of these (marked *) are also to be found in the much larger list of similar names (322 in all) which I found and printed in the Norfolk Fines for the two reigns of Richard I.

and John only, and which are set out on pp. v. vi. and vii. of my Introduction to the Pedes Finium relating to the County of Norfolk, edited by me for the Norfolk and Norwich Archaeological Society in 1881.

This is a very singular thing. We have in Cambridgeshire 100 names out of 128 new to the very much larger and fuller list of names found in a county the border of which absolutely marches with it for over 30 miles.

It would almost seem to point to a radical difference in race of which we should hardly have expected to have found traces at so late a date.

Next year I expect to print a similar Calendar to the Fines of Suffolk (it is in MS. ready for the press), and I hope that some competent philologist will take in hand the raw material which will then be ready to his hand and throw some light on the origin of the men who peopled the three counties.

I have pointed out elsewhere that the great number of transfers of land in Norfolk points to a very large proportion of small freeholders in that county, for there were before the Tudor period 7254 transfers as against 1,247,753 acres; and the same remark applies in a great though not so marked a degree to Cambridge, where we have in the following pages 2357 transfers to 534,481 acres.

Of nicknames there are comparatively few. They group themselves as usual into names derived from personal peculiarities, such as Broketoth (143), Neckebon (83), Barbid'or (88), Redheved (121), Bonenfaunt (35), Beluncle (102), and Bonhumme (43), Bonhome (49), Godchep (73), Goddeloc (30), Blaunkpayn (142) and Milksop (124) go well together, as do Outlawe (80) and Sherewynd (22), Longstaf (33), Renewy (8), and Hopereyl (26). Several which seem to be nicknames, such as Harengot (11), Haretayl (21) and Pellican (88) are probably nothing of the sort, but Sine Manita (8) and Aliquid (20) must be genuine.

The place names which I have been unable to identify are numerous, and the task of attempting to identify and index them has been a very difficult one. The index locorum has been revised by Mr F. Jenkinson.

Those who wish to refer to the full text for the reigns of Richard and John will find it printed in extenso by Hunter in his "Fines sive Pedes Finium" 1195-1214 (Public Record Commission, 8vo. 1835), from which some readings now illegible are taken. These are shown in square brackets.
